

Criminal Justice A Youth Consensus Agenda

78% of young adults ages 18 to 34, including:

85%

of Democrats

75%

of Republicans

73%

of Independents

support policies that would make it more difficult to put people in jail for minor violations, like failing to pay a traffic ticket.

We find that consensus regarding this policy is consistent across not only all major party identifications, but also all major racial subgroups.